Admission Applications

Admission to the University of Arizona – Graduate College

You must have a complete GradApp on file in order to be selected for an interview. Only students fully admitted to the University of Arizona are eligible to start the MEPN program. Unofficial transcripts from every post-secondary institution you have attended must be uploaded into the Graduate College application. International students, please see the International section.

Nursing Competitive Admission Process

The College of Nursing recommends candidates for admission to MEPN by competitive ranking based on the combined scores of the Nursing Admission Criteria. As an applicant, you will be scored on the four elements for admission and ranked among all other applicants. We will recommend the top candidates to the Graduate College for admission to MEPN based on program capacity and offer a few students alternate positions. Alternates are not guaranteed a spot, however they are eligible to be admitted if a space should become available.

Nursing Admission Criteria

HESI Admissions Assessment

Your highest score earned for the combined four sections taken in a single attempt will be utilized. The test must be taken by the date of application and any scores are valid for one year. One attempt every 45 days is allowed – if an additional exam is taken during the 45 day period only the first attempt will be allowed.

GPA Calculations

Grade Point Average (GPA) calculations only include letter grades (A, B, C, D, E or F). Calculations exclude pass/fail coursework and any courses taken as part of a professional degree such as JD, MD, DO, DDS, etc. All attempts at courses you take are calculated into cumulative GPA calculations unless they are removed through an official grade replacement process. For Prerequisite GPA calculation we utilize the highest grade earned. All courses must be from regionally accredited institutions of higher education.

Last 60 GPA Calculations

The last 60 units taken is based on the grades earned in your most recent 60 semester-equivalent units of college or graduate level coursework taken at regionally accredited institutions. To calculate this, start with your most recent coursework and count backwards to the equivalent of 60 semester units of graded coursework (A, B, C, D, E, or F); if 60 units are in the middle of a term, include the entire term in which you reached 60 units. Withdrawal, pass/fail, and other non-graded coursework does not count in the GPA calculation.

Interviews

You will be invited to a Behavioral Interview if your combined score from the Prerequisite GPA, Cumulative GPA and HESI Admissions Assessment places you in the top ranked candidates. Interviews are conducted primarily in Tucson, AZ; however limited accommodations may be approved to conduct interviews via video chat if you are unable to attend on-campus. Final admission recommendations are determined by ranking candidate total scores in all requirements.

Coursework and Degree Completion

All required courses must be completed with a grade of 'C' or better and students must maintain a minimum 3.0 GPA in both the last 60 and prerequisite areas by the time of application. No in-progress prerequisite coursework will be accepted. A bachelor level degree or higher must be complete by May 14, 2018 (first day of summer term).

Domestic Transcripts

Official transcripts from every post-secondary institution you have attended are required to be sent to the College of Nursing once a recommendation for admission has been extended to the Graduate College.
